GOVERNOR CLARK'S INAUGURAL Former Chaplin Man Begins Executive Duties in Alaska.

The following account of the inauguration of Walter Eli Clark as governor of Alaska was pristed in the Alaska Daily Record under date of October 1:

Bound Over to Superior Court

Right on time to the minute the inauguration ceremonies attending the assumption of the office of governor by Walter E. Clark took place this afternoon. The scating capacity of the court room was taxed comfortably and among the spectators there was a goodly number of ladies. The oath taking was simplicity itself. Governor Hoggatt, Governor Clark and Judge E. E. Cushman entered the Governor Hoggatt, Governor Clark and Judge E. E. Cushiman entered the room together and at once the oath of office was administered by Judge Cushiman to Governor Clark. Governor Hoggatt in a few remarks wished the new executive success in office and immediately thereafter Governor Clark made the inaugural address, during which he said:

"My Fellow Alaskans: I come to

during which he said:

"My Fellow Alaskans: I come to you just at the close of what is, for Alaska as a whole, the season of greatest activity in the chief; in ustries of the territory. Placer mining operations for the season of 1909, except those which are carried on under the ground in the winter months; have ceased; the principal fisheries have auspended operations for the year; certain other industries have wholly or in part mactive, and will continue so until spring. It is a good time to reckon our standing. me to reckon our standing.

"In the year 1993 our gold output the was $8,882,660; the product of the fisheries, as shown by shipments to points outside the territory, was $9,182,642; the copper output was $156,000; while the exchange of merchandiss shipments between Alaska and the states, comprising all articles except precomprising all articles except preery succeeding year until two years ago there was an increase in nearly every department of industry and commerce, until the aggregate Alaska commerce until the sale trade including gold bullion, exceeded $50,000,000 in twelve months, In 1967, there was a slight general depression. Saveral causes contributed to this there was a slight general depression Several causes contributed to this moderate decline, chief among them being low water in certain placer districts, labor disputes in at least two localities, and the financial depression of 1907 in the United States. Subsequently the industrial and commercial situation improved, and the present year, dithought atill somewhat disappointing, has given us some reasons for encouragement. The gold output this year has been large, despite adverse conditions in the northwest-has been a satisfying improvement in other departments of industry.

"Information from careful observers in several localities leads us to believe that business is about to experience a substantial growth of prosperity.

"In announcing my appointment to ling the ceremony and celebrating a nuptial high mass. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. During the service soios were rendered by Miss Emma Lariviere and Joseph Godreau. Hector Fournier, a brother of the groom, was best man, and the bridesimald was Miss Laura Moreau, a sister of the bride. The bride was gowned in champague colored slik and wore a hat to match. The bridesmaid wore blue slik.

After the ceremony, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Virsinia Moreau, a breakfast was served to relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Fournier left on the nuon express for a brief wedding trip and upon their return will make their home in this city. Both the bride and groom have been employed for a long time in the dry goods house of J. B. Fullerton & Co. They will occupy a newly furnished home on Manners avenue.

"In announcing my appointment to the governorship, immediately following the regretted resignation of Governor Hoggatt, President Taft publicly stated in generous terms that the appointment was made 'on account of the importance of giving special consideration to Ahaska with a view of bringing together conflicting interests altogether in other hands, but of discharging to the full, in a spirit of earnest co-operation, the obligation placed upon me by the federal statutes to see that the laws are enforced, and to require the faithful discharge of their duties by the officers appointment to appointment was made 'on account of the importance of giving special consideration to Ahaska with a view of bringing together conflicting interests altogether in other hands, but of discharging to the fournty."
